How to pair your microphone to your base.

1. Turn on your base as well as the microphone in which you would like to pair.
2. Choose the desired channel you wish to pair your microphone with by pressing the left or right arrow buttons closest to the screen.
3. Once you have chosen your channel, by pressing the middle button "SET" you will stop the channel from blinking which means that will be the channel that you will link up with your microphone.
4. Make sure your microphone is powered on and place the screen of the microphone facing the base with the chosen channel roughly three inches away.
5. To pair your microphone, press the button that is to the right of the SET button (right arrow)
6. Pairing process should take no longer than 10 seconds. For any reason these two devices did not pair, please choose another channel.
7. Look at your microphone, the channel that appears on your base should match the channel on your microphone.
8. If they match, you are all set to go!
9. To pair your other microphone, repeat the above captioned steps by choosing a different channel. If you have paired your first microphone with the left side of the base, you will not pair your second microphone with the right side of the base.
